

WELLNESS • RECOVERY • RESILIENCE

Your voices matter!

Join us at a Community Forum Addressing The Mental Health of Children in Immigrant Families

Why: The migration experience is integral in the well-being of refugees and asylum seekers arriving in San Diego county. Because children and adolescents are the most vulnerable groups in this experience, we need to better understand risk and protective factors of immigration enforcement-related experiences among children in immigrant and refugee families and identify policy and actions steps to build resilience to preserve their well-being.

What: Two panels will provide background information and set the stage for comments and suggestions of community members and service providers. All are welcome!

Panel One Arrivals of Minors from Conflict Areas: Mental Health Evaluation as the First Step Towards Healing

Panel Two Long-term Healing: Role of Schools and Community

RSVP*: Reserve your spot TODAY by emailing mhsoac@mhsoac.ca.gov

San Diego State University
Conrad Prebys Aztec Student Union Theatre
6075 Aztec Circle Dr., Suite 320
November 14, 2019
2:00 – 5:00 pm

Presented by

* Attendance is free, but space is limited. A limited amount of free parking is available onsite.